

MUCH ROUTINE WAITING FOR SUPERVISORS

"Indications point to a rather slow and short meeting of the supervisors tonight," said Deputy City and County Clerk E. D. Buffandeau, as he rummaged over the files of papers in his office late this afternoon. "Unless something unforeseen comes along the meeting will adjourn early."

For third reading tonight three resolutions are on hand. There is a resolution regarding the $5000 allotment to Hahione roads to $3000, and another placing the $2000 in the road fund for Honolulu. Just what roads are to be received the benefits of the money has not been decided by the road committee, but a meeting is called for this afternoon at which time it is expected that this decision will be made.

Supervisor Logan's resolution appropriating $1000 for the extradition and criminal investigation will also come up for third reading tonight, and will probably pass unanimously.

For second reading there is a resolution appropriating $1500 toward repairs to Kalakaua avenue, which is to be scarified and treated with a dressing of coral.

There is also for second reading a resolution appropriating $375 for repair work to the sewer outfall which is being done at the request of the Chamber of Commerce.

Several reports will also be submitted tonight. Supervisor Horner's recommendation that $472.40 be appropriated for building the fence around the police station higher has been passed to the finance and public expenditures committee who will probably report through its chairman, Daniel Logan, and Attorney A. M. Brown will probably submit his decision on the ordinance proposed by Supervisor Hollinger providing a policeman to guard Ala Park both day and night.

CURE IS FOUND FOR SCOURGE OF HAWAIIAN FOWLS

hand, and in spite of every effort appears again and again among the segregated healthy birds.

"It is therefore a pleasure to announce that a new cure and preventative has been found which not alone reduces to a minimum the number of times the affected birds must be handled, but the application of which to the healthy birds acts as a vaccine which immunizes them for at least a year and perhaps for life. The method is simple but requires some care in the preparation of the vaccine."

The latter is made by scraping the crusts of the tumors and cores which appear on the comb, wattles and skin of the head. These crusts are carefully weighed, then ground in a mortar with a little salt solution, strained through cheese cloth, and the resulting fluid is then heated for an hour over a water bath at a temperature of 55° C. and the vaccine is ready for use. With a hypodermic syringe, a dose of 2 cc. is injected under the skin of the abdomen near the thigh where the skin is free of feathers. This treatment has no detrimental effect upon the healthy birds, but actually prevents them from becoming affected even when left among the sick ones. The latter should be treated as usual at the same time they are injected, that is by painting the tumors and sores from which the crusts have first been removed with tincture of iodine. The number of affected birds cured is at least twice as large as without vaccination.

"In order to introduce this treatment here it is desired that owners of birds suffering from sore head, roup or chicken pox at once communicate with this office and at the same time forward scrapings from which to prepare the vaccine. Only crusts taken from the comb, wattles and head should be used, not the exudate from the tumors nor the diptheritic membrane from the mouth. The quantity required is about a teaspoonful but can be used (minimum 15 grains). Place the crusts in a wide-mouth bottle, seal and forward in a mailing case by special delivery to the undersigned. If possible the vaccine will be sent by return mail. When removing the crusts wipe off the blood with absorbent cotton and paint the sores with tincture of iodine."

CASH AND CULLEN TO BE TRIED ON SATURDAY NEXT

Illness of Clerk of Circuit Court Causes Postponement of Hearing

Speedy disposition is to be made of the cases of Sylvester Cullen, former traffic policeman, and Charley Cash, former inmate of the city jail, who were arrested late yesterday afternoon on charges of assault and battery.

This is according to City Attorney A. M. Brown, at whose instance the arrests were made, and who classes the assault charges as a direct outgrowth of the city jail scandal now being investigated by the territorial grand jury.

Trial of the Sylvester-Cullen case was to begin in Circuit Judge Ashford's court today, but, owing to the illness of Clerk Huron K. Ashford, it was continued until 9 o'clock next Saturday morning.

Leon M. Straus has been entered as attorney for Cullen, who now is out on bond. Cash is still in jail, having been unable to raise bail. Circuit Judge Ashford this morning fixed bond in the sum of $50 for each defendant.

"Absolutely no attempt is being made to railroad these men," said City Attorney Brown. "The prosecution simply wants to bring the cases to trial as quickly as possible."

Warrants for the arrest of Cullen and Cash were issued yesterday afternoon by Judge Ashford. They are charged with having assaulted H. F. Riedel, a witness before the grand jury in the jail scandal investigation, and his wife at their home last Saturday night.

Cullen is a brother of Joseph Cullen, bailiff in Judge Ashford's court.

CULLEN GUILTY OF ASSAULT WITH BRASS KNUCKLES

"Guilty of assault and battery with a weapon, to wit, a pair of brass knuckles"—that was the verdict found against Sylvester Cullen in 1911 in circuit court, according to existing records, which also show that Cullen, who until this week was a city traffic policeman, was then sentenced to serve a term of nine months at hard labor in Oahu prison.

Cullen was indicted by the territorial grand jury on the brass knuckle charge on January 6, 1911. At the time of his sentence the court costs were $150.

The man convicted and sentenced in 1911 is the same who now, together with Charley Cash, faces a charge of assault and battery on H. F. Riedel and Mrs. Riedel. His second assault trial is now set for Saturday morning.

BUSY AFTERNOON FOR GRAND JURY; MANY WITNESSES

Hugh Walker, assistant treasurer of the Hawaiian Trust Company, and W. A. Love, the stock broker, were to be summoned as witnesses before the territorial grand jury this afternoon for what is believed was to be an investigation of the case of John Marcellino, former clerk in Circuit Judge Whitney's court, who is charged with embezzlement.

The complaint against Marcellino alleges that he converted to his own use certain stocks owned by the Egan estate and valued at about $30,000. Marcellino now is confined in the city jail. He has retained R. W. Breckons as his attorney.

According to City Attorney A. M. Brown, the grand jury was also to investigate the case of Eugene Buchanan, colored, a corporal in the 25th Infantry, who is alleged to have shot and killed his wife in Kukui street last week. Bert Palmer, alleged to have committed perjury in connection with preliminary hearings of the Buchanan case, also was to be investigated, according to Attorney Brown.

Further investigation of the city jail scandal was to have been held this afternoon. Sheriff Charles H. Rose, Deputy Sheriff Julius Asch, Jailer Joseph J. Fern and Police Officers Legros and Lili were subpoenaed to appear as witnesses.

It was reported that the grand jury would return either a partial or a complete report on the jail investigation this afternoon.

Among other persons summoned to appear as witnesses before the grand jury were Harry Hayward, J. F. Ha-

WARRANTS ONCE WORTH MILLIONS GIVEN TO FLAMES

Paid Up Liabilities of Territory For Five Year Period Destroyed This Morning

Paid up warrants that have collected during the five years between 1907 and 1912 in the attic of the territorial building were put to the flames this morning in the little plot of government ground back of the Lewis stables. The dust-covered collection formed a pile 10 feet square and five feet high, and represented an expenditure of millions of dollars. The cremation ceremony was carried out in accordance with Joint Resolution No. 2 of the 1915 laws, and was presided over by territorial senators, representatives and officials.

Present at the ceremony were the following: E. W. Quinn, representing the ways and means committee of the Senate; Norman Watkins, chairman of the committee on finance in the House of Representatives; C. H. Cooke, a member of the same committee; Charles J. McCarthy, territorial treasurer, and Henry Hapal, registrar of public accounts.

With the burning of the warrants a large weight has been lifted from the minds of these men, who had the duty thrust upon them by legislation. They have been deliberating for some months on the question of how, when and where the old papers were to be burned.

Last July the committee assembled in formal session and after the papers had been loaded on to a large dray, rode with them out to the Honolulu Planing Mill for the purpose of putting them in the big engine-room furnace. It was Saturday, however, and the employees of the mill had quit early. Steam was down and the fire was out. The man in charge of the engine-room accordingly refused to let the papers be put on fire under the boiler, because all of the committee members admitted that they knew nothing about handling the engine under steam.

Out Bright and Early. Then the papers were brought back and again stored in the Capitol building. Last night the word was passed around to the committee that the little spot of government land back of the Lewis stables would be unused today, and this morning bright and early the members were out with their load of old warrants.

Oil was poured on to the papers after they had been dumped into the pit, a match was set to the mass and soon thereafter a great column of flame shooting upward bore evidence to the committee members that their troubles in regard to the disposition of the old warrants would soon end. Meanwhile a big Hawaiian laborer with a long iron pole stirred up the papers and kept the flames eating into them. The committee members drew near and warmed their hands. Then one member drew from his pocket a crumpled and time worn copy of Joint Resolution No. 2 of the 1915 laws, and read:

"Be it resolved by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Territory of Hawaii, that the committee on ways and means of the Senate, and the finance committee of the House of Representatives are hereby appointed a joint committee of the legislature of 1915; said joint committee is hereby authorized and empowered to burn up or destroy all paid up warrants of the government, which were paid on or before December 31, A. D. 1912; and all actions of said joint committee relating to the same are hereby approved by the Legislature."

BODY OF H. P. EDWARDS, SUICIDE ON VENTURA, INTERRED BY COUNTY

By order of the coroner, the body of H. P. Edwards, who hanged himself Monday morning in his stateroom on the Ventura, just as the boat came in sight of Honolulu, was buried this morning at 10 o'clock.

Capt. Raymond Sheldon of Chicago, a brother of the dead man, has sent no reply to the wireless messages asking what disposition should be made of the body, and after holding the remains several days the funeral was set for this morning. No service of any kind was held before the burial.

The large shipment of American butter from the Pacific coast to Hongkong via Australia, the roundabout way being necessary on account of the lack of cold storage facilities on the direct transpacific run, has arrived in Hongkong in satisfactory condition in spite of the necessary transshipment at Sydney.

Collector of Internal Revenue: J. T. Scully, A. Watson, Police Surgeon Ayer, Miss Akana, Sarah Winchester, Dr. McGittigan, H. B. Sinclair and A. Lister.

City Attorney Brown said today that another meeting of the grand jury will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

OAHU RAILWAY WILL ADD NEW EQUIPMENT SOON

Past and Present of Road is Sketched in Talk Before Rotary Club

New rolling stock to care for increased traffic will be added to the Oahu Railway equipment shortly. Announcement of plans to add three new locomotives and 100 cars was made by Fred C. Smith, general passenger agent, during the course of a short but vividly interesting talk on the railway before the Rotary Club today.

A long tableful of Rotarians listened with much interest to a brief resume of the history of the road and something of its trials and tribulation in the past, as well as of its highly successful present. He told of the efforts of B. F. Dillingham in pioneering the road through its infant troubles. Humor often touched his narrative as when he told of the sightseeing parties the road used to give when a new extension was opened up, referred to the various newspaper excursions on such occasions, and produced an ancient photograph showing some of Honolulu's staid businessmen as nimble and youthful reporters. He presented the photo to Ed Towsse, who sat by his side and who was in the picture as one of the young scribes.

The Rotarians had a visitor today in the person of F. Z. Willsher, a brother Rotarian from Philadelphia introduced by J. Ashman Beaven. He is here on a business trip, representing the Schlitz-Jute Cordage company of Philadelphia. He gave a short and snappy talk on Rotary clubs in general and Philadelphia's live organization in particular.

Following its spirit of rotation, the club today decided to rotate its place of luncheon from the Commercial Club to the Young Hotel. In leaving the Commercial Club the Rotarians expressed their satisfaction with the treatment given there but wished to carry out their revolving motto and to move on to one of the hotels. Beginning next Thursday the regular luncheons will be held at the Young until further notice.

SERIES OF TALKS ON RELIGION PLANNED BY D. C. PETERS ON FRIDAYS

David Cary Peters will talk to the members of the Y. M. C. A. and their friends tomorrow from 12:25 to 12:50. His topic will be "The Idea of God." Mr. Peters will conduct a series of meetings at the Y. M. C. A., taking up the common difficulties in religious thinking. The meetings will be held in Cooke hall each Friday at noon. His topics will be "The Idea of God," "The Logos," "The Place of Jesus," "The Human Soul and Its Relations," "The Acquisitional Powers of the Soul," "The Reach of the Ideal," "Some Methods of Soul Development," and "The Ultimate Possibility." Mr. Peters speaks from years of study and personal observation, and his talks will be both scientific and of large practical helpfulness.

Arthur Pillsbury Dodge, a lawyer and an author of religious works, died at his home in Freeport, N. Y., at the age of 66 years.

IMPORTANT CHARTER CONVENTION MEETING.

The delegates to the Charter Convention are urgently requested to attend this session this evening in the market pavilion of the Alexander Young Hotel roof garden, at 7:30 o'clock.

Only a few more sections and the work will be paid. It is very important that all attend this session in order to settle the following questions:

1. Whether or not the charter should define the methods of levying, assessing and collecting taxes.
2. Whether or not the duties of the superintendent of city works should be fully defined.
3. Whether or not the electorate of the City and County should vote on future charter amendments.

M. C. PACHECO, Chairman, Charter Convention. 6312-11

ASK FOR ARREST RATHER THAN PAY MONEY FOR CHECK

At his own request, Pvt. B. W. Lawrence, Hospital Corps, Fort Shafter, was arrested Tuesday by Policeman Carter, and later was turned over to the military authorities.

Lawrence said he received a check from the custodian of his grandmother's estate, and got Capt. Robert McDonald, Hospital Corps, Fort Shafter, to cash it. Later the check came back, marked "no funds." Capt. McDonald asked Lawrence to pay the sum he had lost on the check—$75—and Lawrence agreed to pay it, but he seems afterwards to have changed his mind. He told Carter that he did not intend to pay it and did not intend to go back to the fort.

Capt. McDonald verified the main facts of the story, but would not go into details and the reason that Lawrence chose jail to payment of the money is not yet plain.

Dodge Brothers Motor Car

In nine months more than $25,000,000 worth of these cars have been bought by the American people and still our one problem is to satisfy the demand.

Extraordinary claims have not, as you know, played any part in creating this demand, which must therefore be directly due to the performance of the car.

The motor is 30-35 horsepower. The price of the Touring Car or Roadster complete is $785. (L. & D. Detroit)
